

London Drugs Continues Expansion in Vancouver with New Store Opening in Dunbar Village

NBA Champion Danny Green Hosting Fan Meet & Greet at London Drugs on July 5th

JULY 3, 2019, RICHMOND, B.C. – London Drugs continues its expansion in Vancouver with the opening of a new store in Dunbar this Friday, July 5th. The entirely new 14,000 sq. ft. location includes a carefully curated shopping experience in every department. The 115-year-old family-based business that began in the heart of Vancouver 73 years ago, now has 83 store locations in Western Canada, including its ecommerce store.

“Our success and longevity has not been about selling things – as a company we don’t believe in “selling” customers. It’s about taking care of them. And we know that care extends beyond our customers and into the communities we serve as well. The opening of our new location in Dunbar is another step in our journey to make it easier for our customers to get what they need and the care they trust,” says Clint Mahlman, President and Chief Operating Officer, London Drugs.

Located at 4588 Dunbar Street and adjacent to the new Highroads Medical Clinic, this London Drugs provides area patients and customers with a one-stop source for their complete pharmacy and medical healthcare services. With the inclusion of a private consultation room, the role of the pharmacist is expanded to deliver a range of health and wellness services to patients including flu vaccinations, diabetes management programs, chronic disease management, screening and prevention clinics, medication reviews and more.

“This location with the Highroads Medical Clinic provides Dunbar area residents with direct access to physicians, pharmacy staff, and healthcare services all in one very convenient and professional environment,” adds Mahlman.

The store’s technology department will be an open layout displaying a variety of products for all home and office needs: a simple tech shopping experience with superior products and expert advice standing by to help. Skilled and knowledgeable staff in the Computer, Audio Visual, Photo Electronics and Photolab departments are available for on-the-spot customer service for everything from phone purchase and activation to photo I.D.’s, computer repair, photo printing and more.

Additional store highlights include a new cosmetic department layout featuring many luxury brands that are new to London Drugs, and a comprehensive general merchandise area with extensive unique food and beverage options.
